Mondale seeks area support during GC visit

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Walter F. Mondale, former vice president of the United States and now considered a leading contender for the Democratic party nomination for president, visited Granite City for about an hour Sunday afternoon to attend a private $100-a-couple fund raiser. Mondale arrived by helicopter in the vicinity of Route 203 and Benning Street about 1:45 p.m. Sunday to meet some political and labor leaders and prominent attorneys at a backyard picnic hosted by a local resident.

Among the approximately 25 persons who greeted the former Minnesota senator were State Sen. Ken Hall (D-East St. Louis), Illinois House Majority Leader, Rep. Jim McPike and wife Julie, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, former Alderman Clyde "Bus" Boyd and wife, Laura.

Attorneys present included Bruce Cook, Paul Pratt and Lance Cullis and his wife, Joan, and daughters, Beth and Missy.

Also present was Democratic National Committee delegate Charles Hester and others, Laborers' union leader Ron Shevlin of St. Clair County, Press-Record General Manager Paul Halbert and Editor Gary Schneider, Barbara Hodges, Bill Schaeley, Betty Carbaugh, Sandra Ousley, Key Kincer and James Campbell.

Mondale, vice president under President Jimmy Carter, told those present that he feels Illinois is an important state for him to win if the Democrats are going to have "a unified convention, a stable convention and a responsive convention that appeals to people all over the country on television. Illinois is very, very important."

Blaming Reaganomics, Mondale said, "People are suffering, basic industry is in tough shape and unemployment is not dropping." Reaganomics means interest rates are still too high and Reagan's policies are "killing us in international trade."

Mondale concluded, "We need government policies to make this country safe, prosperous and secure. I'm ready to do that."

Mondale visited with those at the party and enjoyed an outdoors lunch until returning to the helicopter about 2:45 p.m. for a flight to Lambert St. Louis International Airport and then on to Milwaukee, Wis., for an evening appearance.

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL, former vice president of the United States, Walter F. "Fritz" Mondale, discusses his campaign for the Democratic nomination for president with area residents during a yard party in Granite City Sunday afternoon. From the left, are Ron Shevlin of the Laborers' union in St. Clair County, State Sen. Kenneth Hall (D-East St. Louis), House Majority Leader Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton), Mondale and Attorney Bruce Cook of St. Clair County. Mondale was in Granite City for about an hour meeting area officials and setting the groundwork for a larger public meeting he hopes to conduct in the near future.

Vote to lower transit tax fails

The Madison County Transit District Board Thursday rejected a plan to reduce its quarter-cent sales tax to a fifth of a cent, although the board president had thought the proposal was a good idea.

Bill Haine, president of the transit board, believed the proposal was sound, until board members heard projections of the district's financial situation. Board members voted unanimously to keep the current tax.

A report from District Manager Susan Schold, which the transit board did not see before its recent vote, projected alternatives for the district, including an estimation of finances if the tax remained at one-quarter cent.

The report also outlined the impact a reduction in the tax to one-fifth of a cent would have on the transit district.

The report, released last year by Bi-State officials, was based on the assumption that the tax would be increased for county taxpayers. Mrs. Schold said that the projected impact of the decrease was negative enough to persuade board members not to cut the tax rate.

The idea to cut the tax rate came after projections indicated that the transit district would have a surplus between $2.2 million and $2.5 million with the current rate through 1988. The decrease, however, would mean a million dollars by 1987.

The proposed reduction in the rate would have provided an average savings of $10 to $20 for taxpayers in the district, officials had said.

While admitting that the decrease would provide only a minuscule saving to taxpayers, Haine had indicated that the reduction would show the Bi-State Development Agency that the county was against an increase in the rate.

But some board members, including Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, were against the proposed decrease when it first was discussed, arguing that the transit district could depend on the projected surplus because the state of federal aid affecting Bi-State is presently uncertain.

While Mrs. Schold said the possibility exists for an increase in federal aid, Schuler agreed Thursday that the prospects are grim and shouldn't be considered.

However, Haine said that if the federal assistance comes through, the transit district at that time still could consider a decrease in the tax rate. The board apparently agreed and the prospects for a decrease, if the federal becomes reality, will be discussed when budget predictions are finalized.

Tax bills are confusing

Township tax collectors throughout the Quad-City area have set up collection points for payment of county property taxes. Many people received tax bills during the weekend and others will receive their bills today, county sources said.

The first payment is due on or before Monday, Aug. 22. Late payments will be subject to a penalty of 15 percent of the first half of the tax liability. Payments in four townships must be made to the township collectors and not mailed to the county courthouses at Edwardsville, Norman Hall, Chouteau Township collector, stressed. Those townships are Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and Edwardsville.

"Last year, when we sued (Madison County Treasurer) Mick Henkhaus, Judge (Edward C.) Ferguson ruled that he (Henkhaus) can't legally collect the first installment or any taxes prior to Sept. 1."

Hall says that any bills mailed to Henkhaus will require the township collector to go to the courthouse and get the payments, so they can be credited to the townships' collector.

After Sept. 1, all payments must be made to the county treasurer, the associate judge ruled.

Nameoki Township tax bills seen by Press-Record today do not contain a notice required in Judge Ferguson's court order. The notices, as included in last year's tax bills, instruct taxpayers in Edwardsville, Nameoki, Venice and Granite City townships that they must pay the first installment to the town collector and list the collectors and their addresses.

Hall told the Press-Record this morning that he has no comment about Henkhaus' failure to include the court-ordered notice, other than to say that the collectors have been in touch with their attorney, Irvin C. State Jr.

Reporters also noted that the tax code number, which normally appears on both the top and bottom halves of the tax bill, appears only on the top half this year and instructions tell taxpayers to send only the bottom half with their taxes.

Hall contends that failure to put the tax code on the bottom half will force the town collectors to look up the code for each one in order to determine

Dies from shock in pool

LISA JONES

Lisa Ann Jones, an 11-year-old Pontoon Beach girl, died at 1:03 p.m. Thursday, July 14, at Cardinal Glennon Hospital for Children in St. Louis, where she was admitted after suffering an electrical shock in a neighbor's swimming pool the previous Saturday.

"According to reports by the Pontoon Beach Police Department, Lisa was playing with two other girls at an above-ground pool at 7 Lily Court when she tried to reach a beach ball that rolled under the structure by using a six-foot metal pole and apparently fell on an electrical wire, causing the electrical shock."

She was initially taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after Long Lake Fire Department volunteers tried to revive her. She then was transferred to the St. Louis facility.

An electrician was called to the scene and was unable to find any wiring defect, according to the authorities.

A lifelong resident of Granite City, Lisa would have been in the sixth grade at Nameoki School beginning the fall session. She was an active member of the Pontoon Baptist Church.

The young girl who lives at the Lily Court address, Jill Chaney, 11, reportedly suffered a mild shock when she went to help her friend but did not require hospitalization, the police said. They identified the third girl as Kelly Thurman, 12, who was visiting her grandmother in the neighborhood. Funeral arrangements for Lisa are given in today's obituary column.

Final vote on GC budget tomorrow

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Granite City aldermen are expected to take final votes on levy, budget and sewer user fee increases Tuesday.

Residents will be given an opportunity to respond to a proposed 32 percent increase in city property taxes and a $5-per-quarter rise in sewer user fees at a 7 p.m. public hearing to be held at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave. A City Council meeting will follow.

The tentative $3.9 million levy represents a real estate tax increase for next year from the current rate of $1.37 per $100, based on a property's assessed (one-third) valuation, to $2.09 per $100. The 72-cent hike would affect only the city's 20 percent share of a resident's total tax bill.

The average homeowner would pay about $80 to $100 more in city taxes, according to Second Ward Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, finance committee chairman.

Granite City Community Unit School District 8, which receives the greatest part of the property tax dollar, in March approved an 8 percent levy rise for an estimated tax of $3.43 per $100 assessed valuation. The action was taken early in order to borrow two years in advance, instead of one year. The school levy is likely to be amended this fall.

Anticipating a negative public response at the hearing Tuesday, Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, a finance committee member, said, "The school, park, county and sanitary districts could all ask for increases, but when the residents get their tax bills they always blame the city." Collection is handled by the city-township for the other taxing bodies.

Whitmer could not predict the ultimate decision the aldermen might make Tuesday on the higher levy, but hinted the 11-3 first-vote victory margin on the levy and budget might be eroding somewhat as final voting approaches.

Opposing the levy and budget on first reading were First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish, Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak and Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Bowler.

The levy would support a combined $9.2 million general fund and ambulance budget. A revised $2.1 million wastewater treatment plant budget would have to be supported by a combined $5-per-quarter residential sewer user fee. The hike would be passed on to both the city and county users.

City residents currently pay $13 per quarter. County users pay $14.80 per month.

The wastewater budget includes $111,570 for capital improvements that have been badly needed for some time, according to Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk, pollution plant committee chairman, and Terrance McMullan, plant superintendent. The figure, however, falls far short of the $2 million in improvements and structural corrections that should be done, based on a report given by the Environmental Protection Agency.

The capital expenses slated for this fiscal year are: roofs, $80,000; equipment, $17,900; and truck payments, $13,670.

The $5-per-quarter proposed increase is down from a doubling of rates that would have been necessary to support an original $2.6 million budget, slashed after a special aldermanic session disapproved the higher fee base.

The likelihood of the $5 increase passing the council may remain in as much doubt as the tentative levy.

In July 1982, the council defeated 7-5 a $5 fee hike suggested by Mayor Paul Schuler. Instead, aldermen supported a compromise proposal to hire an independent firm to survey plant opera-

Audit shows Pontoon books in good order

By PAT HAYLUTZ

An audit of the 1983 financial records of Pontoon Beach indicates that the records are "in pretty good shape," according to Nathan Stein, of Stein and Associates. Stein presented the audit report to members of the village council during their regular meeting last week and praised the village for its well-kept records which allowed the audit to be conducted easily and quickly.

"Basically, we found nothing wrong with the records," Stein reported. "We didn't find any extra money, but it's better not to have found any."

Pontoon Beach officials had turned over their records in April, and Stein commented on the efficiency of the village. "You (the village) are up to date and on time," he said. "That must make everything easier for us."

In other business, the village board approved the first reading of the ordinance which calls for the levy of a .075 police protection tax. Since the proposed tax received little opposition in a public hearing June 29, the ordinance will be read during the next regular meeting in July and the first meeting in August. If the board approves the final two readings of the ordinance, it will be approved at the final meeting in August, according to Mayor Paul Bennett.

The tax will be levied according to the taxable property in the village at a rate of 7½-cents per $100 of assessed valuation, and will be used to pay for police protection. One officer has been given notice of a layoff because of economic restraints and Bennett indicates that this situation will be rectified when, and if, the tax is levied.

"If this ordinance passes, we won't receive the money until next year (the summer of 1984)," Bennett explained. "Until then, this is a necessity."

TRAFFIC ARREST

Darrell R. Burkett, 26, of Collinsville, was arrested last week in a mobile home park at Ridgeway Avenue and East 23rd Street on warrants alleging failure to appear in court on charges of driving while his license was revoked and making a right turn where prohibited.

Nab 2 in burglary

Two St. Louis were arrested last week in the Granite City court in connection with a break-in at State Radio and Television, 1836 State St., discovered in the early hours July 10.

Combined effort by officers from Madison, Venice and Granite City police departments, plus assistance from Granite City Steel security personnel, resulted in the capture of the two suspects.

The burglary charges were contained in informational documents issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office against Steven Brown, 20, and Anthony Kenny Jackson, 25, both of St. Louis.

A public defender was appointed for the pair and bond was set at $25,000 on each man. Brown's bond later was reduced to $2,000 and he was released at 3 p.m. Tuesday after posting $2,200 cash bail.

Jackson was transferred at 7:25 a.m. Wednesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Initially, a security officer driving into the parking area at the Granite City Steel office building, 20th and State streets, early Sunday alleged seeing two men placing an item in the trunk of a car which was parked in front of the State Radio and Television store.

The vehicle then drove north on State, turned east on 20th Street and went into an alley near the Grand Cafe, 1113 Twentieth St.

The security guard, who was keeping the auto in sight while a dispatcher notified police, saw the vehicle drive to the rear of an apartment building near the cafe.

When they arrived at the parked auto, officers found another security guard watching the vehicle in which Brown was seated. He was taken into custody. The two other men apparently fled the area.

In the trunk of the car were a RCA video cassette recorder and two RCA televisions. It was alleged. On the back seat of the vehicle was another television set, reports noted.

At the store, the front door glass was found broken and the door had been forced and damaged. The owner was notified and identified the video equipment.

A description of two other men was circulated and at 3:40 a.m. Sunday, Madison Police Sgt. Norman Horton spotted a person, whose appearance matched that of one man, near the viaduct at Broadway and McKinley. Assisted by Venice Patrolman John Kittel, Jackson, the second suspect, was apprehended and taken to the Venice Police Department. Later, the man was transferred to Granite City.

A third man believed to be involved apparently escaped the area.

Arrest 2nd man in burglary case

A warrant alleging residential burglary in an April case was served on Thursday on R. Poloski, 19, of 405S Braden Ave., at his home last week.

Officers went to the dwelling and were given permission to enter, but Poloski was not there, reports said.

As they were preparing to leave, Poloski, heard footsteps in the attic area and a relative of Poloski's looked in the attic and found the man hiding there. He was taken into custody.

The charge stemmed from an April case when officers heard footsteps in the attic area and a relative of Poloski's looked in the attic and found the man hiding there. He was taken into custody.

Beware of 'speed' trap

The "End of School Speed Limit" sign also has been placed directly across the street, photo at right, from two other signs. The top sign indicates a school crosswalk ahead and the bottom sign indicates the beginning of a school speed zone.

If the "End of Limit" sign is not removed before the fall school term begins, motorists will have their choice of speeding up or reducing their speed as they approach the school.

Grant to modernize public housing here

Although it asked for nearly $6 million, Madison County Housing Authority Director Bert Hampton said he is "overjoyed" the authority will be receiving $707,225 from Washington, D.C., to repair county housing projects.

Hampton learned last week from the Washington office of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development that the authority is eligible to receive the modernization funds.

Hampton said HUD has given the Authority a list of the county projects eligible for the grant. To receive the money, the authority now must formally apply for the $707,225.

Among the repairs and modernizing approved by HUD is roofing work on the Bramer Building in Collinsville and a housing project in East Alton. HUD had visited the two buildings and recommended the repairs.

Roof work at the two locations is expected to cost about $25,000 each.

Sewer problems at a housing project in Alton, foundation work on buildings in Madison-Venice and structural repairs to buildings in East Alton are also projects approved by HUD for modernization funding, Hampton said.

The money from HUD, although quite a bit below what the authority thinks it needs to repair its housing projects, was more than Hampton had expected.

"I'm thrilled that we're going to get anything at all, with the way things have been coming out of Washington this year," he said.

Last year, the authority received no modernization funds — because it had failed to sign a mandated fair housing agreement with HUD by the time the grant decisions were made.

If all goes as expected, Hampton said the authority should have the modernization funds in hand by the end of the summer. Repair work can begin shortly after that, he said.

FOUR CHARGES FILED

Police filed four charges at 10:20 p.m. Thursday after investigating a disturbance in the 4100 block of Kirkpatrick. Homes. Quinn A. Sexton, 21, of 2731 Warren Ave. was booked for trespassing at the housing project, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and aggravated assault. Officers said he fought and pushed them at the scene and at the police station.

More surplus food on the way

There is good news and bad news for those who receive free cheese and butter in the government giveaways.

The bad news is that there will be no distributions in July, no matter what townships were told earlier.

The good news is that four, cheddar cheese, dried milk and corn meal are being added to the list of government surplus commodities to be distributed free.

There also is good news for the townships. The commodities will be delivered by Fox Industries of Granite City directly to the townships, rather than township officials having to go to Alton or Edwardsville to get the commodities, unless the delivery is less than 2,000 pounds. Nameoki, Collinsville and Jarvis townships are among those which will get direct delivery.

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission announced the new guidelines last week. We commend the EOC for recognizing problems with the old distribution system and doing something to make it easier on the townships and, hopefully, the recipients.

Also, new rules are designed to see that only the truly needy receive the goods. Income guidelines will be more restrictive, ranging from a maximum income of $68 a month for one person to $1,610 for a family of eight.

On the other hand, the total number of commodities made available to Madison County will be reduced, despite the addition of the new foodstuffs.

Shortages of corn meal and dried milk already are being predicted. They are to be distributed starting in September. "We know it's not enough, but we will give it to them anyway," Opal Davis of the EOC said.

The next distribution, involving cheese, butter and flour, will be August 19. The next, adding cheddar cheese, dried milk and corn meal to the list of offerings, will be Sept. 30.

We hope everything goes in an orderly manner.

Air bags are not the answer

The current effort by the U.S. Supreme Court to force auto manufacturers to put air bags or some type of automatic passenger restraint systems into new cars snafus of the courts trying to protect us from ourselves. We wonder how many Supreme Court judges "buckle up" when their chauffeurs pick them up after a long and hard day on the bench?

Certainly, it is desirable to have passengers restrained in cars. It would undoubtedly save lives in crashes. We even support state legislation to require that young children be in approved restraint devices, since they are too young to make up their own minds and understand the consequences of deciding against being protected.

However, the Supreme Court, which has been crying about a very full docket, should not be wasting its time trying to force full-grown Americans to do something many have proven they are not going to do, put on seat belts before they drive.

The air bag is the Eidel of automobile safety devices. The Department of Transportation's own tests over a 10-year period show conclusively that the lap and shoulder belts already required on all new cars offer far more protection than air bags and cost only a fraction of what it would cost to put exploding bags in the steering column and dashboard of every new car.

Automatic seat belts which close over the passengers and drivers when the doors are shut, provide more protection than air bags, but are cumbersome and uncomfortable and many motorists have them disconnected or removed altogether, we suspect.

Many have disconnected the annoying buzzer which sounds when new cars are started to remind the driver to "buckle up."

We hope DOT takes the "back door" the Supreme Court left open in its decision. The court said DOT should implement the air bag or automatic seat belt regulations immediately or explain why it should be voided.

We encourage DOT to show that our money would be much better spent if it was used for an expanded educational campaign to show drivers why they should wear seat belts, rather than to make them pay dearly for safety devices and then pay more to a mechanic to disconnect them.

Hopes Van Hooks win their case against TV

To the Editor:

Regarding your editorial, 7-11-83, issue: "Van Hook Suit Could Test Media." I, too, will watch this case with interest, and I hope the Van Hooks win the case against the television and news media, who were so eager for bad news against a lady's husband and three children's father. When Mr. Van Hook committed suicide because of all the embarrassing and cruddy news concerning his case, all phases of the news media had to return the whole matter to the television and news media, who were so eager for bad news against a lady's Believe me, this is going on at all schools and many phases of life...

I say to the Van Hooks, take your case to the limit and I hope you win.

If more working mothers would quit driving buses and taking work away from men who have families to support and would devote more time with their daughters and all over their bodies. This would not be going on.

Don't print my name. I feel this is one way of getting back at the news media.

I doubt if you print this letter.

To the Editor:

On the anti-abortionists know how many children are abused yearly? What about these babies that are found in garbage cans, tied up and put in suitcases, put in trash cans just hours old.

Hurting and killing innocent babies just doesn't cut it. They did live long enough to throw away, or were beaten until they were bruised all over their bodies.

Read your papers, listen to TV and you'll know what is happening.

So, let these people do like they want. Its their bodies, their consciences and if they see fit not to have this child, so be it. Get off their back.

PROUD OF POLICE IN BATTERY CASE

To the Editor:

As a battered woman in need, I found the service and protection of the Granite City police officers who came to my aid to be very supportive and efficient.

I am grateful to officers Douglas Law and Richard Chodich, who escorted me to my home and made me feel safe and secure on the morning of July 1, 1983. They also were instrumental in securing the Illinois Domestic Violence Act, and specifically, the Order of Protection.

In my view, they are an ideal example of the type of officer we should place in our legal system to secure and protect our community.

Opposes aldermen's tax and spending plans

To the Editor:

I read in the Press-Record that the Granite City Council is considering and intends once again to make some enormous tax increases.

I would suggest very strongly that before they make these tax increases, that they find out the feelings of their particular wards.

A very good method of obtaining the feelings of the people they represent, would be by personally visiting each ward.

This means a door-to-door throughout the wards, such as they do when they seek election or re-election.

If this would be considered too much work, then give the people of Granite City a vote in a referendum. The aldermen will then most certainly find out the best interests of the people in the City of Granite City.

When home rule was enacted, there was fear that the council would impose taxes and more taxes, whenever desired.

But the aldermen took into consideration that they would have to be re-elected on the basis of their voting records.

Anyone and everyone should know that "you can't spend more money than you realize or take in." This is true in the home, in small business, and in corporations.

We have lost approximately 10,000 jobs, plus over 4,000 previous residents. Where have they gone?

Almost every taxing body has and is attempting to operate and work off a balanced budget. This information is obtainable by radio, television and most newspapers.

Aldermen are being told consistently by various department heads that they will have to curtail services. Always remember that only one of these department heads has to be elected.

Speaking of Department heads, and employees, I don't know Alderman Moad and have never met him, but where he obtained his information on employees living in Granite City and pay taxes here is correct.

Only two exceptions were ever made, City Engineer Monroe Brewer and the city attorney who at that time was Leon Scroggins.

To tell you that "they would resign rather than live in Granite" is ridiculous.

When James Stack was appointed assistant superintendent of streets, he lived one block out of the city limits.

He was given one week to move into the city or his appointment would be withdrawn. He moved into the city very expeditiously.

If this city is too dirty for them to live here and pay taxes here, then check the Granite City Employment Office. You will find approximately 3,700 people seeking employment.

I have just as strong or stronger feelings about the Granite City School Board, which has approximately 25 percent of teachers and employees who do not live in the school district or pay taxes in this district.

Last but not least, let's not destroy home rule by the way it is applied. It can be repealed.

It seems as though some aldermen obtain all their information from people who don't reside in Granite City or pay taxes here. They have done an excellent job for the real estate people in Granite City, and how!

Now they want to double the sewage treatment plant rates. These rates were supposed to be returned to $2.70 per quarter when all the outlying areas were included in this region.

Here again, no research, instead information supplied by non-residents and non-taxpayers.

They are recommending a 50 percent increase in real estate taxes. What is the value of the average home in Granite City?

How much money has each committee added to the city budget?

How much consideration has been given the senior citizens or other people on fixed incomes?

The city has lost approximately 10 percent of its population. Why can't aldermen reduce the budget 10 percent?

We should need less services, not more.

Also, they have known for several years that they can impose a 5 percent utility tax. Why not consider 1 percent, when each utility bill exceeds $100? Let's negotiate something with the corporations which would be workable.

We give credit to the three aldermen who voted against the ridiculous 30 percent in property taxes. We hope they have not added substantial monies to the budget.

Aldermen have more than ample time to obtain and consider the thoughts of the people who will have to pay these taxes.

They do not have to pass the tax appropriation ordinance and finalize the tax levy ordinance until September.

If confronted with an expensive problem in scheduling a referendum, they will find there are enough public factors to convince the people still remaining in the city to help defer election costs.

It is often said that "the city can't afford a referendum." I, for one, will be very glad to make a contribution to see if the aldermen are voting according to the feelings of their constituents and the city.

Aldermen will you give us an opportunity to express our opinions or will you use your own individual expertise?

Sewer committee drops rate charge

The Madison County

Sanitary Sewers for Special Service Area Number One Committee has decided to drop all delinquent charges against a man who says he can't receive his sewer bill for six months.

Robert Rothe, who operates the Highlander Landraund on Maryville Road, has appealed to the committee for assistance several times, saying that he didn't receive his bills and when he did begin getting his "bills, a delinquent charge was added."

While Rothe agreed that the bills must be paid, he was opposed to paying the delinquent fee, because he hadn't seen the bills. Dr. Thomas Clay, owner of the property, had requested that bills be sent to him so he could keep track of what his tenants owed.

Rothe told the committee several weeks ago that Dr. Clay hadn't gotten the bills either. At that time, the committee agreed to look into the matter with billing supervisor Larry Bilbrey.

Rothe still will be responsible for paying the regular sewer bills.

The committee also received a request from Superintendent Gene Futch about damage to a lift station on Chouteau Slough Road that was struck by lightning. Futch said smoke was coming from the lift station after it was struck.

A check of the other 49 lift stations revealed no drastic problems, except that warning lights were on at some of the stations, Futch said.

He showed the committee part of the lift station equipment that was melted by the lightning. It will cost about $750 to fix the lift station.

The committee also agreed to check a sewer line near the Army installation after receiving a letter that the ground is sinking near the line. Army personnel are concerned the county's line will break from the city line, the letter said.

In other business, Futch said he is once again considering a check of homes to see if sump pumps are legally connected to the service area lines.

More opposition to GC sewer rate proposal

To the Editor:

A 100 percent increase in sewage usage fees? Ridiculous.

Several years ago, our sewer usage fees were $6.25 for a single dwelling. We then had an over 100 percent increase to the present 13 fee.

Since none of our complaints were heard then, our present administration decided to "do it to us" again.

We have now reached the point where it costs as much to dispose of our waste water as it does to bring fresh clean water in

News Notes

Reacting to a July 12 Illinois Supreme Court order banning unusually early releases of inmates from crowded prisons, Gov. James R. Thompson said Friday the state will reject new proposals. Corrections Director Michael Lane today started a "reservation system" of inmates from new inmates. Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant, who has seven prisoners awaiting transfer to Menard Penitentiary, will be represented at a discussion with the governor Wednesday in Springfield. Toffant said Illinois would have to pay to keep long-term prisoners in jails designed for defendants awaiting trial; he noted that jails lack prison-type space and programs, and voiced doubt that the state could legally refuse to accept convicted felons.

Cong. Paul Simon, Makanda Democrat, is announcing his U.S. Senate candidacy in fights to eight Illinois cities today. At Cahokia, Chicago, Moline, Rockford, Peoria, Springfield, Carbondale and Champaign, he is seeking Sen. Charles Percy of being anti-Israel and pro-Arab economic.

J. Lynn Helms, Federal Aviation Administrator, said Friday that Lambert Airport will reach its capacity in about 10 years. Commenting that the FAA will not revise the proposal for a new regional airport, he called it a local issue.

Testifying Thursday on his resignation from the Federal Reserve chairman, Paul Volcker sought to reassure senators who were worried about his "loss of interest" in the Fed. He said the Fed has lightened its monetary policy somewhat since he took dramatic plans in mind.

U.S. House Majority Leader Jim Wright (Texas) said during the weekend that Cong. Richard Gephardt of Missouri is moving toward the top echelon of House leadership. Gephardt, 41, was described as "gifted at making a case for his push for votes on major legislation."

The Madison County fair will open Sunday at Linden Dale Park, Highland, and continue through Friday, July 29.

Speaking Thursday at the Madison County Courthouse, Lt. Gov. George Ryan forecast property tax reform within the next year. He said one approach would be a school income tax designed to partly replace real estate taxation.

Southern Illinois University employees, teachers and administrators are expected to receive a 4 percent pay raise. Salary projections are $88,894 for Chancellor Kenneth Shaw, $72,697 for SIUC Pres. Albert Smith and $67,328 for SIUC Pres. Earl Lazerson.

Madison County Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas plans to lay off four employees and reduce services. The County Board's finance committee on Thursday rejected his request for a $20,000 cut to maintain the staff at its current level through Nov. 30. Saying the committee is "crippling" his office, Lucas warned, "The law says our doors have to be kept open, but not how fast documents must be mailed." He said telephones also may be eliminated.

Service area receives grant money

By NANCY WEILL of the Press-Record

It was anticlimactic when the Madison County Sanitary Sewers for Service Area Number One Committee learned Wednesday that it had received grant money from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The IEPA forwarded $99,002 to the county, with the remaining $100,000 to be paid after completion of the final audit, Committee Chairman Morris Miles announced.

Much of the badly-needed grant money is earmarked for projects or repayment of loans from the county that helped the financially-strapped service area function until the grant was received.

County officials had been told that the grant money would not be sent until the final audit, but the committee told the IEPA that the funds were needed sooner than that for completion of proposed projects.

Superintendent Gene Futch said Wednesday that he believes the IEPA released the grant so the service area could get started on some of the projects.

The IEPA has been aware of financial problems the service area has suffered because of withheld grant money and committee members indicated they are pleased with the agency's decision to release the funds earlier than planned.

Last October, IEPA officials told service area officials that no more grant money would be released until four requirements were met. Three of the requirements were easily handled, but the final block was the Brandon Heights settlement.

In April, the county settled with disgruntled Brandon Heights residents and assumed easement rights for placement of sewer lines in the subdivision.

Futch said that the IEPA has not told service area officials exactly how much more grant money is to come. He said that several figures have been considered. At one time, $300,000 was the figure used and later it was increased to $600,000.

The IEPA has agreed to pay for most of a new truck the service area purchased and also will pick up the bill for a new generator, Futch said.

Committee members Wednesday seemed anxious to settle debts with the county as soon as possible. The service area has paid the principle on all loans obtained from the county, totaling $300,000, but has yet to repay the interest rates, which are negotiable and adjusted each month, based on current rates.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith had indicated to the committee that the interest could be negotiated after completion of the grant money is received.

Miles said that a meeting will be set up with all county officials involved to determine exactly how much the service area owes in interest rates.

The committee agreed unanimously Wednesday to pay a $20,000 bill to Juneau & Associates engineering firm. Charles Juneau wrote the committee a letter asking them to provide information concerning the grant money. That letter prompted Miles' announcement.

While considering the financial outlook for the service area, Miles said he was concerned that county officials and service area officials needed to sit down together and discuss accounting procedures.

An accountant was hired so that financial hatters at the county and the county staff works with the service area's finances.

Miles said that problems have occurred because of the two separate procedures used at the Mitchell office and the other in Edwardsville. Madison County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields was contacted by Miles to try and coordinate the two, but, thus far, there still are problems that need to be worked out.

The service area has, on occasion, spent money and also has found out that the county that not enough funds were in whatever account was being used to cover the purchase or payment, Miles said.

Trooper Sprankle of Madison has retired from the Illinois State Police after 25 years of service.

Trooper Sprankle was appointed to the State Police in January, 1958, and upon graduation from the State Police Academy was assigned to District Three in Chicago. He transferred to District 11, then at French Village. In December, he became the Vehicle Identification Section officer for District 11 and served in that capacity until his retirement.

Captain Bobby L. Henry Sr., Illinois State Police commander District 11 said, "During the course of 25 years of your employment, you have had the opportunity to witness firsthand the many changes and demands being placed upon the law enforcement field. I, as a know you must take pride in your participation and the contributions that you have made to this business throughout these years."

For myself and the members of District 11, I

There has been a move to sever service area financial operations from the county to make the service area independent. However, some accounting of funds still will have to be done in Edwardsville, Miles said.

He agreed that the county must continue to conduct its accounting of funds, but the chairman said he will keep some service area financial records. Miles added that he plans to meet again with county officials to determine which department will handle what aspects of the service area's financial accounts.

TROOPER SPRANKLE
Trooper Sprankle would like to take this opportunity to say "thank you" for a job well done. Best wishes for many happy years ahead.

David Maple, 23, of 632 Lincoln Ave., Venice, has been ordered by Associate Judge Edward Ferguson to serve four years and nine months in a state prison.

Maple was charged Jan. 20 with committing a residential burglary in Madison. He pleaded guilty March 1.

BURGLARS ENTER HOME WHILE MAN IS THERE
Burglars entered the Edgar Woolfolk home in the 1000 block of Douglas Avenue last week while one of the residents was at home, police reported.

Bernice Woolfolk noticed that things were out of place in a bedroom of the home when she was talking on the telephone. She then found a man who was wearing an air conditioner had been and a number of pieces of jewelry were missing.

Mrs. Woolfolk's husband, Edgar, said he was in the kitchen and heard a noise, but thought it was his wife. He said he called out to her, but there was no answer.

Local firm accused of selling leaded gas from pumps

The proprietor of a Granite City construction supply firm and service station has been accused of selling leaded gasoline from unleaded pumps.

Leonard Fuchs of Fuchs & Sons Construction Supply, 4300 Nameoki Road, allegedly has sold gasoline with a lead content 35 times higher than allowed by law, according to a KTVI Channel 2 "11" team report, conducted by reporter Ellen Jaffe.

The report, which appeared two nights last week, said that, according to invoices obtained by reporters, Fuchs had not purchased unleaded gasoline in 1983, yet, continued to operate unleaded pumps.

Reporters purchased two cans of gasoline from unleaded pumps and sent samples to an independent laboratory for testing.

Fuchs, when contacted by the Press-Record, did not want to comment on the allegations. "I really don't know too much myself," he said.

He added that the "11" team "came on like gangbusters" and he then told them to leave the premises. During the TV report, Fuchs, when confronted with the alleged findings, held his hand up to the camera and wouldn't comment.

"I really don't think there was," Fuchs said when asked if he sold gasoline had been sold from unleaded pumps at his station. "Not to my knowledge," he added.

Fuchs did say, "There could have been a mistake."

According to Channel 2, the gasoline supplier to Fuchs is Olympic Gas, but reporters declined to say where the company is located. Further, they wouldn't reveal the source of their information, "for legal reasons."

Fuchs allegedly was making a higher profit by selling leaded gasoline from unleaded pumps because of the cost difference between the two types of gasoline.

Channel 2 contacted the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency about the allegations against Fuchs but, thus far, an investigation has not started.

3 local scouts attend Jamboree

Three Granite City boys returned to the area July 16 after participating in the World Boy Scout Jamboree in Calgary, Canada, Kananaskis County.

Scott Wilson, Maryville Troop 96, and Jim Friedel and Paul Miskell, St. Elizabeth Troop 13, left from Lambert St. Louis International Airport on a new Boeing 737 jet. The jet was in St. Louis for the first time when the boys, along with 100 leaders and Boy Scouts from the St. Louis area boarded the airplane.

Each of the Granite City Scouts was appointed to a leadership position. Wilson was appointed patrol leader, Miskell a quartermaster and Friedel as scribe. All three were assigned to Troop 410 of the Jamboree.

After landing in Seattle, Wash., the boys were joined by 2,000 other Scouts from the U.S. before completing the final leg of the trip to Canada.

About 4,000 U.S. Boy Scouts met on July 5 in Calgary for the Jamboree. About 15,000 Scouts from 117 countries in the free world gathered in Kananaskis County. Some of the countries included England,

Three GC youths attend conference in Mexico

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

Vacation in a foreign country is always an experience, but when combined with an educational religious conference where many other countries are represented at one place, the event stimulates the participant with questions and an exchange of ideas to bring home.

This was the case for Lisa Jackson, Robin Roddy and Rodney Unger, Granite City youths who were accepted as delegates to the World Youth Congress '83 held in Oaxtepec, Mexico, under the auspices of the Nazarene Youth International of the Church of the Nazarene.

There were 2,200 young people from 25 countries who took part in the one-week event, highlighted by training in leadership principles, messages and concerts by special resource personnel, sight-seeing excursions each afternoon and first hand experience in the culture and language of other countries.

Delegates also had opportunity to dialog with youth leaders from around the world concerning needs and programs designed to meet those needs.

Upon arrival at the center, the girls were housed in dormitories with four beds per room and the boys were assigned to duplexes with six to eight rooms.

"The country was beautiful and there was nearly no humidity, as is the case in this area, therefore, there were no air conditioners. We were always comfortable in regards to the weather," Rodney Unger explained.

Miss Jackson and Miss Roddy agreed with Unger about the country and weather, but they did not enjoy the food as well as their companion.

Breakfast was served from 7 to 8:30 a.m., lunch at about noon and the dinner hour began at 5 p.m. All meals were served cafeteria style and the main entrée was something similar to beef stew. The water is safe but has a well water taste and there were very few water fountains, so they resorted to drinking coffee, weak lemonade or Mango juice, the two girls said.

"Since we did not care for many of the meals, we ate a lot of fruit, including bananas, melons and pineapple, that was available in the cafeteria," Miss Jackson and Miss Roddy added.

Some of the delegates spoke English, but most spoke French, Spanish and Japanese. The translators were Spanish and French so the Granite City visitors had some difficulty in understanding everyone. The Japanese delegation represented some 600 missionaries of the Nazarene denomination in their country, the local youths explained.

"We had a busy schedule but also had free time to tour the countryside, visit business districts to shop and generally view the area where plants bloomed profusely and the trees, shrubs and other plant life is vivid green, Unger added.

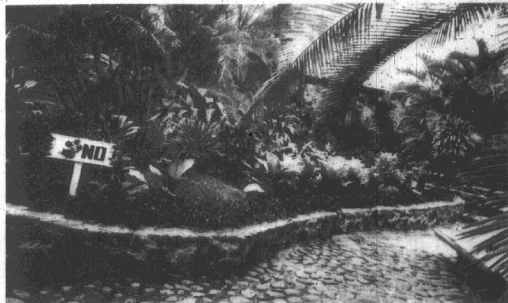

"Each morning after breakfast we attended a Bible study, where we were required to recite scripture verses we memorized before departing for the conference, and at 9:45 a.m. we attended a discipleship training course in an outdoor tent for one hour.

From 11 a.m. to noon, the youth leaders formed family groups with 14 boys and girls in each gathering and held formal discussions relating to the conference topics.

Everyone had free time from noon until 5:30 to either take guided tours by bus to visit cathedrals, Cortez palace or the stadium where the 1968 Olympic games were played. The city of Oaxtepec has about 200,000 population and a cathedral complex where there is a solid gold altar with a backdrop of gold hangings, canopied with a solid gold engraved valance, Miss Roddy said.

Miss Jackson, in reviewing the trip, said, "Some of the villages we visited were very small and primitive, compared with the larger cities. One point of interest in Oaxtepec was a huge white dome built over a sulphur spring, where vapors were irritating to the breathing. The dome is suspended above the ground and is encircled with open air green plant gardens and stone walkways."

Other activities available to all the young people included mountain climbing, swimming and attending special feature movies from

HORTICULTURE. Beds of vivid green plants and stone walkways encircle the giant white dome in Oaxtepec, Mexico.

10 to 11 each night.

Rodney said it was a chore to shop in the department store. "When you purchased an item in a department you were given a ticket and, if you decided to go to another department, you repeated the process. At the end of the shopping spree, you went to an outlet section of the store, where you stood in line for as long as 30 minutes to pick up all the packages you bought. Sometimes, the clerk could not find your package and once, I just went back to the department and found they had not forwarded it and was given permission to take another item, Rodney explained.

The young people attended church services each night at 7:30 and could then go to the movie or return to their rooms.

"Discussions of laws of our own country, our way of life, social activities, school and family life were talked about with our roommates," Unger said. He was housed with young men from Canada, Florida, Minnesota, Wisconsin and California.

The two who also experienced a cross section of people. Miss Jackson shared living accommodations with girls from Oklahoma, Dayton, Ohio and Kansas, while Robin's roommates were from Oregon, Arkansas and Maryland.

The Rev. William Roddy accompanied the trio for a Press-Record interview and explained the trip is a once in a lifetime event. To qualify, young people must be in high school or just graduated and, for the next conference, the delegates will be selected from those who have never attended a conference, he added.

Robin, a sophomore at Granite City High School, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Roddy, 3245 Princeton Drive. Rev. Roddy pastors the First Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111, Unger, 26 Victoria Drive, Ponton Beach, who attends the First Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Unger serves as minister at the Glenview Church of the Nazarene in Cottonwood Station area. Rodney graduated this year from Granite City High School North and is enrolled as a freshman student at the University of Illinois, where he plans to study in the College of Agriculture and eventually become a veterinarian.

'Hit parade' radio format described

"Hit parade" music—successful non-rock recordings featuring familiar vocalists and "textured" sound—was described to Granite City Rotarians last week.

Craig R. Hodgson, general manager of KCFM radio, an FM station at 97 on the dial, was introduced by Glenn Abenroth, program chairman for the day.

With more than 30 radio stations in this metropolitan area, most are emphasizing a particular theme and seeking a certain audience segment, Rotary members were told.

Hodgson says his goal is the 35-54 age group. He is featuring songs of a generation ago along with current music, he commented.

President Willi Seim presided and a past president, Elmer Baker, introduced Louis H. Kell and Elmer Milton as new members. The number of Rotarians now exceeds 80.

A guest was William Hoedebecke, president of the club in the early 1960s.

Warren Decatur said the July 19 Rotary speaker will be William Swanson, director of operations at Granite City Steel.

Attention was called to a Granite City municipal budget hearing at 7 p.m. July 19 at the Township Hall.

Prison term in home burglary

Found guilty at a March 14 and 15 trial of both armed violence and armed robbery, Charles B. Ellsworth, 63, of Kirkpatrick Homes has been sentenced to 15 years in prison.

The prison term is for armed violence occurring June 23, 1980, in the unincorporated area of Madison County.

The charge was filed Sept. 5, 1980, but the case did not come to trial until this year. The sentencing this summer by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill cited the guilty verdict. O'Neill deferred judgment on the armed robbery conviction.

The charge was filed Sept. 5, 1980, but the case did not come to trial until this year.

Charged June 1, 1982, with petty theft, Robert Earl Cox, 23, has been ordered by Associate Judge Edward Ferguson to serve 364 days in an Illinois prison.

The sentencing this summer by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill cited the guilty verdict. O'Neill deferred judgment on the armed robbery conviction.

On the latter charge, he received two years of probation.

At the same time, they arrested James Hidy, 21, of 306 Kirkpatrick Homes, who was visiting the Beck apartment.

Hidy also was booked for battery, alleged in an active warrant.

The officers then went to the home of Patrick F. McGowan Jr., 21, of 2666 Edwards St. and served him with a third warrant, likewise alleging battery.

All three warrants stemmed from an incident occurring July 9 in the Kirkpatrick Homes when Robert Householder, 403 Kirkpatrick Homes, was injured after allegedly being knocked to the ground and kicked. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and released.

Beck was released from custody at 10:45 p.m. Friday after posting a $500 cash bond.

A short time later, Joe T. Crowder, 17, of 53 Greener Homes, Madison, came into the station. Both Hughes and Crowder were charged with disorderly conduct and released after each posted a $52 cash bond.

During the arrest of Hughes, Albert R. Jones, 19, of 520 Washington Ave. Venice, allegedly started yelling at the officers, telling them not to make the arrest. When Jones reportedly persisted in his remarks and threatened to "get even," he also was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. He was released upon posting a $52 cash bond.

ARREST MADISON MAN ON WARRANTS

Notified that a Madison County deputy sheriff had a man in custody at West Chain of Rocks Road and the Chain of Rocks Canal on whom Granite City held active warrants, a local officer took charge of Mark W. Copeland, 25, of 1431 Third St., Madison, at 2:25 a.m. today.

Copeland was charged in the warrants with allegedly failure to pay on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

GOING UP FAST, a new barn utilizing sheet metal donated by Granite City Steel and distributed by O'Neill Lumber of East Alton is nearing completion in time for the 4-H livestock projects which will be shown on the Madison County Fair in Lindendale Park, Highland, July 24 through 29. Private donations from area businesses and individuals have helped finance the barn.

Soliciting funds in community to 'aid consumers'

Several persons are canvassing homes in the Quad City area, seeking financial contributions which they say would be used on behalf of consumers.

Among the issues being cited is the cost of utility services.

Residents are being told that some of the donations would be used to finance lobbying, with a goal of encouraging creation of an elected Illinois Commerce Commission rather than the present appointed ICC. The commission acts on utility rate requests.

Both state and local officials are being criticized by some of the solicitors, who are believed to receive a commission on the funds they collect.

A coalition of "consumer-oriented" organizations is said to be represented, and at least one of the solicitors has received credit for having achieved "homestead" and other property tax exemptions.

Real estate assessments are being described as inappropriately structured, favoring industries over residences and favoring urban areas over rural sections of Madison County.

Some of those being contacted say they disagree with the accuracy of fund solicitor statements that businesses and city dwellers are being given unjustified breaks while eastern county families are treated badly.

Along with trying to obtain money, those visiting local homes are asking residents to sign lists. The signatures, it is explained, are to be shown to legislators to help convince them there is public backing for low taxes, low assessments and low utility rates.

Find man, 27, in crawl space

Officers went to the home of Lowell H. Kyle, 27, of 2223 Edison Ave., at 10:05 p.m. Friday to pick him up on an active warrant alleging indecent liberties with a child.

They were admitted to the dwelling and found Kyle hiding in dirt in a crawl space, reports said. Kyle was talked into surrendering and placed under arrest.

A second active warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of driving with a suspended license was served on Kyle at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, while he was still confined in jail.

A life-long resident of Granite City, who was a member of Pontiac Baptist Church and would have entered the sixth grade at Naemski School in the fall.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Wayne (Emma Carolyn Minton, Jones and a grandnephew, Mrs. Louise Schmitt of Madison.

Edwardsville Nationals baffle Chiefs; 6-1, 26-5

By BELINDA CONLEY

GRANITE CITY — The Inter-City League's worst team hosted the league's best in a doubleheader at Granite City High School's Varsity Field Sunday. The meeting came to a predictable conclusion as the Edwardsville Nationals beat the Granite City Chiefs 6-1 in the first game and 26-5 in the second game.

As the scores indicate, the Nationals completely dominated both games. In the first game it was Edwardsville pitching that won the game. Pitcher Pat Braun had the Chiefs' offense completely baffled as he struck out 15 and allowed only two hits. In the second game it was mainly the Chiefs' defense which was responsible for the top-sided score, however Edwardsville's hitting does deserve recognition for pounding 19 hits.

Edwardsville wasted little time getting their offense going. John Wood led off the game with a single, stole second and was driven home by a single off the bat of Tim Clawson. The Nationals added a single run in the third when Jamie Semanin singled to left center, sending Bruce Pfister home from third.

The Nationals scored two more in the fourth. Tony Ringering walked with one out and was sent home on a single by Clawson. Dave Kraus also singled. He scored on a wild pitch by Chief's pitcher Ken Crawford.

Dan Allaria put his team up by another run in the fifth when he hit a solo homer to left field. Semanin followed Allaria's homer with a single to left. He went to second on an error by first baseman Dennis Gurkin (the younger), stole third, and scored on a single by Ringering.

Nationals pitcher, Pat Braun, struck out the side three times, holding the Chiefs hitless for five innings. However the Chiefs spoiled Braun's no-hitter in the sixth when they got two hits and scored their only run of the game. Dennis Gurkin, (the younger) reached base on a fielder's choice. Jim Small came in to run for Gurkin and scored on a double by Ron Pinkston, ending out the scoring for the first game.

If the Chiefs had known what was in store for them in the second game they probably would not have minded their 6-1 loss in the first game. The second game began ominously for Granite City, with Greg Steiner leading off with a home run over the right field fence. The second batter, Brian Kabbes, reached base on an error, stole second, and scored on a catcher's error.

Dan Clausen led off the Edwardsville second with a double and scored when Pfister also doubled. Pfister came home on a single by Steiner, and Steiner scored on a sacrifice by Rich Fletcher.

Granite City came up with one run in the second, when Pinkston hit his second home run and scored on a sacrifice fly by Keith Flaeger.

Granite City continued to be a victim of it's pitching in the third. Darrell Harris, normally the Chiefs best pitcher, gave up two walks with none out, and after getting one out gave up a three run homer to Dwayne Rosenkrance. Rosenkrance's homer put the Nationals ahead 8-0 after two and a half innings. Wait Streicher replaced Harris, but did not fare much better than his predecessor. He gave up one run in the fourth, when Kabbes scored on a sacrifice by Robertson, and one in the fifth, when Pfister sent Clauson home with a single to left.

It was in the sixth inning when the Chiefs' defense fell apart completely and the Nationals blew the game wide open. Eighteen men came to bat for Edwardsville. That in itself is remarkable, but what is even more remarkable is that thirteen runs were scored on only seven Edwardsville hits.

After seven batters and five runs, Chiefs manager Dennis Gurkin (the older) replaced Streicher with Mike Zukus, but to no avail. The Nationals continued to run up the score.

As the inning progressed, the Chiefs became increasingly frustrated, and their defense got progressively worse. When Zukus finally retired the side with a strike out, 13 runs had been scored on seven hits, and six errors. Allaria, and Fletcher had three RBI's each, and Kevin King, Clawson, and Pfister had one RBI each.

Pinkston came in to pinch the seventh for the Chiefs. Robertson and Rosenkrance combined to drive in three more Edwardsville runs, and increase their run total to 26.

When the Chiefs came up in the bottom of the sixth, the Nationals found it necessary to humiliate them and in the process turn the game into a three-ring circus. The Nationals purposely gave up three runs to the Chiefs, and although the runs were insignificant, the Chiefs could have been spared some embarrassment if the game had been finished in a more sporting fashion.

The Chiefs, who are 2-15, face McDonald's next week in a 1 p.m. double header at Wilson Park. Edwardsville leads the league with a 21-4 record, and will play Maryville next Sunday at Hoppe Field.

Burton hurrs no better in Maryville 'dust bowl'

By ROGER KRAMER

MARYVILLE — The Red Sox Manager Randy Robbins and his coach Ray Perry did everything they could to the Maryville baseball diamond Sunday prior to a double-header between the Red Sox and McDonald's of Granite City.

Because of the recent dry spell, dust was flying with every slide and ground balls slowed down in the deep dust.

Even though the two holed down the field and got the village of Maryville to bring a water truck to the diamond, the field was still dusty. And McDonald's pitcher, Keith Burton could not have been happier.

Burton, with the help of the dust, pitched the second no-hitter of his career as McDonald's downed Maryville 10-1. In the second game, McDonald's pounded the Red Sox 19-6.

Burton's slider and spit-finger forkball ensured that Maryville would hit the ball on the ground. The dust took over from there.

Many of the grounders Maryville hit were hard grounders, but the dust took down the between third base and short-stop which would have been hits with a normal field. However, the dust slowed down the ball just enough so McDonald's third baseman, John Vrennek and shortstop Jeff Parker could get to them.

"I know a lot of the ground balls hit off me would have been hits somewhere else," Burton, a right hander, admitted. "I kept the ball low and they kept hitting the ball to the left side of the infield, and they made some excellent plays."

Although McDonald's fielding was far from perfect — McDonald's committed six errors in the first game alone — the play of Vrennek and Parker ensured the no-hitter. Nine of the 21 outs were hit either to Vrennek or Parker.

Burton helped himself out with seven strikeouts, and he only walked one batter. "They're a good hitting team," Burton said about Maryville, "and they hit the ball hard off us the last time we played them. I just thought I had better control and we had a few things go our way."

Many of the six errors McDonald's made were close to questionable. The only time the no-hitter came close to being in doubt was the seventh inning.

Maryville's Rod Scown almost blooped a single into right field, but the ball bounced three feet foul to preserve the no-hitter.

Even though Scown reached on an error by second baseman Fred McClary, he was stranded when losing pitcher Rick Wilke flew out to right fielder Gaylon Harris. Burton then caught Tony Konek looking at strike three for the final out.

Maryville's run came off two errors in the third sixth inning. Dan Hamilos seached on an error by McDonald's first baseman Al Yount and scored on an error by Vrennek.

The only other serious threat by Maryville came in the first inning when Konek reached on an error, Robbins walked and Randy Wilke reached on an error. However, Burton struck out Brian Weider and John Russell for the second and third outs of the inning.

Although Maryville's Rick Wilke and Hamilos combined for a seven-inning, Maryville could not get around the 11 walks allowed.

In the first inning, McDonald's Dan Schaus and Vrennek walked, and McClary singled both runners home. Rick Wilke then walked Steve Ficker, Yount and Harris to drive in another run.

McDonald's added four in the fifth inning. Vrennek and Parker both walked. Vrennek, seeing a chance to steal third, took off. Rick Wilke could have picked off Vrennek easily, but he overthrew the first baseman, Scown, and both runners scored.

Ficker then reached on a fielder's choice, and Yount blasted a two-run homer over the left field fence.

McDonald's Jim Draper hit a two-run single in the seventh inning and scored on a three-base error made on a fly ball by Schaus.

McDonald's was pushing a second no-hitter in the second game. For the first three and two-thirds innings, Yount was pitching a no-hitter.

Robbins reached on an error in the fourth inning, and with two out in the inning, Weider blasted a triple into center field to break McDonald's 13-inning no-hit streak.

Yount pitched one-hit ball in his four innings of work, and Parker gave up only one hit in the next two innings. Schaus pitched the final inning, giving up four runs on four hits.

McDonald's scored six hits on six errors and two hits in the third inning and scored four more runs on four singles, and two-base error on a pick off and a sacrifice fly in the fourth inning.

Parker added a home run over the left field fence in the sixth inning. For extra measure, McDonald's added six runs in the seventh inning.

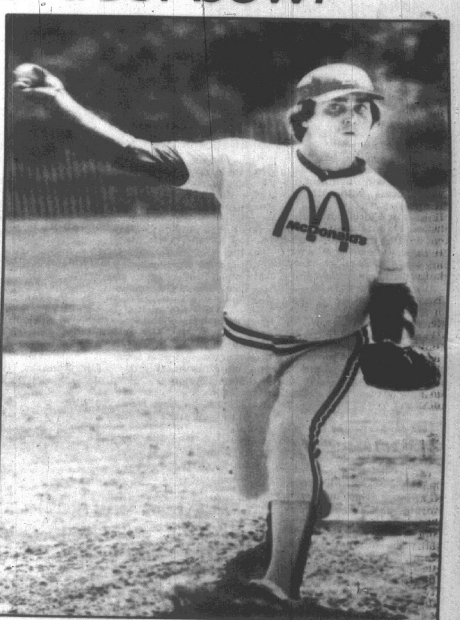

In all, McDonald's 19 runs came on 18 hits, 10 errors and three walks.

"True, these were easy wins for us," McDonald's manager Ray Harris said. "I was glad to get the two wins to increase our record to 13-3. We played some good baseball today."

Meanwhile, inexperience and youth were the downfall again of Maryville. "We made a lot of mistakes, and McDonald's made some good fielding plays in the infield that hurt us."

McDonald's will host the Edwardsville Nationals Wednesday in a 6 p.m. game at Wilson Park. Next Sunday, McDonald's plays the Granite City Chiefs in a 1 p.m. double header at Wilson Park.

Maryville plays Edwardsville at Edwardsville's Hoppe Field Sunday in a double header. Maryville is 3-12 in Inter-City League play.

NO-HITTER. Keith Burton, a pitcher for the McDonald's baseball team, fires a strike one way to a no-hitter Sunday in an Inter-City League game in Maryville. Even though his teammates committed six errors, Burton maintained the no-hitter and a 10-1 win over Maryville in the first game. McDonald's won the second game of the double-header 19-6.

Alton delivers MAC a losing pair; wins 4-3, 4-1

ALTON — Although the Mitchell Athletic Club-Juniata Legion baseball team played only eight innings Thursday, they came out losers twice at Alton's Gordon Moore Park.

First, Alton defeated MAC 4-3 in the 13th inning of a game continued from June 13 at Mitchell. That game was originally called after eight innings because of darkness.

In the regularly scheduled game, Alton's Tad Holt pitched a four-hitter and defeated MAC 4-1.

Alton, despite having two outs in the top of the ninth inning, made sure the game didn't go on any further. Joe Bowen walked for Alton, stole second and scored on Chris Norton's triple to right field.

Holt, who also pitched the final inning, gave up a single to MAC's Eric Gottling, gave up the bottom of the inning, but Keith Coakley hit into a fielder's choice. Greg Ehlers popped to the catcher, and Tim Gray grounded to shortstop Bart Henrich to end the game.

The other game didn't turn out very well for MAC either. "We made contact, but we didn't get it to go in the hole," said MAC manager Myron Merk.

Alton, on the other hand, managed twice as many hits as MAC and took advantage of them. In the third inning, Craig Weis doubled for Alton and scored on Adam Cartwright's triple.

Cartwright scored on Bowen's sacrifice fly to center fielder Doug Druhe.

Holt scored in the fourth after walking and moving to second on a sacrifice fly. A single by Henrich and an Alton error accompanied error by Gottling allowed Holt to score.

Gray, the MAC pitcher, gave up three singles to lead the bases in the fifth inning, and Cartwright scored on Holt's sacrifice fly.

MAC's only run came in the fourth inning. Druhe walked, and Keith Coakley's single sent Druhe to third; Druhe and Coakley successfully executed a double steal for MAC's run.

After Alton catcher Jim Holt threw to second to try to get Coakley out, Druhe took over for home and made it without a throw.

The only inning in which MAC had more than one hit was the first inning, but one of those runners were erased by a double play.

Derek Merk took the loss in the first game, and Gray took the loss in the second game.

Highland, Bethalto win in District 22 playoffs

The Highland and Bethalto American Legion baseball teams were both winners Sunday afternoon in the first round of the North Division of District 22 playoffs.

Highland defeated Troy 5-1 and Bethalto downed Alton. A score on the latter game was not available at deadline.

As a first round winner, Bethalto (6-16) is scheduled to meet fourth seeded Collinsville (11-11) this evening in Collinsville at 8 p.m., while Highland will play the winner of that game on Tuesday.

The winner of the single elimination round bracket (Collinsville, Bethalto or Highland) will meet Alton (16-6), the top seed, this Saturday, July 23, in double elimination. Meanwhile, second seeded Edwardsville (15-7) and third seeded Granite City (15-7) will battle it out also on Saturday. With both Edwardsville and Granite City each finishing the season at 15-7, a coin flip decided Edwardsville the second seed, thus giving it the home field advantage for Saturday's game.

The winners of Saturday's will play in the semi-finals on Sunday. Monday will be an off-day with the North Division championship game slated for Tuesday.

Should a second championship game be needed, it will be played on Wednesday.

In the national pro dragster competition, Ray Lafayette outdistanced Pete Rogers to win that Harley Davidson class only.

Don Plesser of Kansas City won the pro stock competition with a 116 m.p.h. performance over Billy Ellis of Nashville, Tenn. Both rode Kawasakis.

In the funny bike competition, Richard Tanner of Ava, downed Rick Pace of Edwardsville with a 124 m.p.h. performance. Tanner finished the eighth mile course in 5.87 seconds. Once again, both raced Kawasakis.

Cape Capahas gets even with Spanky's

By AL BARNES

for the Press-Record
CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO.

The law of averages finally caught up to the 7-Up/Spanky's baseball club here over the weekend as they met the Cape Capahas in a four-game weekend series.

Prior to the pair of games Saturday night, the 7-Up/Spanky's had Sunday in the morning, but Sunday in the morning, the 7-Up/Spanky's of Eldon Warfield had defeated the Capahas, six of seven times. Spanky's now 7-4 against Capahas.

Saturday, the averages, as mentioned, closed in on the Illinois nine as it lost a cliff-hanger, 6-5, and then were the Missourians' little, but hard-hitting, left fielder, Chris Janet, blasted a pair of homers, a total of four runs blasted in.

In both of Saturday's games, however, 7-Up/Spanky's offense was power was at full blast: In the opener they outpitched Cape, 11 to 3, but couldn't get the "key" hit. In the nightcap Saturday, the hits were divided 9-7 in favor of the Spanky's.

Sunday's leadoff game saw the Illinoisians, behind the brilliant five-hit pitching of their southpaw ace, Vince Broderick, romp to a 6 to 2 victory over the Capahas, whose record now a very good 29-13.

A pair of Granite City ballplayers, Rick Daily and Darren DePew, were the chief architects of the Spanky's attack. DePew, making his debut as a player, has been used twice prior to yesterday as a pinch hitter and designated hitter behind the plate, delivered a timely and screaming home run double in the fifth frame to give the Spanky's what appeared to be a safe lead at the time, at 4-2.

However, in the bottom of that same inning, Cape's designated pitcher, Howard Quigley, powered a very short left field fence to deadlock the score at 4-4.

Then, in the top of the sixth, after Granite City's Tom Greco had led off the inning with a single, up stepped Rick Daily who blasted the first pitch deep over the left field barrier.

The only thing to mar the Spanky's 31st victory (now 17 losses), and Vince Broderick's brilliant pitching was a hanging curve he served Cape's designated hitter, Howard Quigley in the fourth. Broderick fanned six Cape batters and walked only three. He's now 4-1 for the season.

A great seven-hit pitching job by Jerry Vitale of the Spanky's with his teammates, down the middle, couldn't complete two double plays.

It was the clutch hitting of Steve Little, who went two for three, who batted the Capes to their Sunday split. His double, with two mates on base, which broke the 4-4 tie in the fourth frame.

The Spanky's, however, made a run at Cape in the sixth as tiny Jackie Baugher clobbered a first pitch over the centerfielder. Baugher's teammate, Darrell Wehrend, paced both team's batters with a 3-for-3 in the final game with a pair of sound doubles and a pair of RBI's.

Tomorrow night, Spanky's will travel to Marissa for a single game at 7:30. Thursday night, they return to Edwardsville's Hoppe Park for a meeting with Waterloo.

And, then after a game at the road at Centralia, Friday night, Spanky's will enter the Missouri State tournament of the National Baseball Congress slated for Saturday and Sunday at Maryville College in West County off of Interstate 44 headed toward Wentzville.

The Venice Lions Club will make for a hilarious evening. Tickets for the game are $5 in advance and $8 on Sunday.

Persons attending the game should bring lawn chairs for comfortable seating. Refreshments will also be available. For further information, persons should contact Hogan at 451-8914.

Lions battle on donkeys Sunday

The Venice Lions Club will take on the Pontoon Beach Lions Club in a donkey baseball game next Sunday, July 24, at Lee's Park in Venice.

The game, which is a fund raiser for the Venice Lions, begins at 7 p.m.

In donkey baseball, when players hit the ball they must first mount a donkey before heading for first base. According to Earl W. Hogan

Three archers fare well in competition

Two Granite Cityans won their respective divisions in the Illinois 1983 State Field Archery Championships last weekend in Chatham, southwest of Springfield. A third Granite Cityan finished second.

Paul Viessman, 14, who has been shooting a bow and arrow just two years, won the Class A gold medal in the youth division. His father, Randy Viessman, won the gold medal in the adult class category. He also has been shooting for just two years.

Both Viessmans shoot Hoyt bows. The younger uses a 37 pound bow, while his father uses a 40 pound bow.

Tony Zedolek, 20, a third Granite Cityan in the competition, finished second in the Class A Men's Freestyle limited division — a division which does not permit release aids.

Zedolek, who led during much of the competition, finished second to Don Genyer of Moline by one point. Zedolek, who prefers a 50 pound PSE bow, managed 1,300 of a possible 1,400 points.

TOP ARCHERS. Randy Viessman, Paul Viessman and Tony Zedolek of Granite City fared well during the 1983 Field Archery Championships last weekend in Chatham. The Viessmans won divisional championships while Zedolek finished second in the Class AA adult limited category.

consisted of shooting 70 targets. The trio shot 28 field targets the first day of competition, and 14 hunter targets and 28 animal targets on Sunday, the second day. The targets were shot at varying distances from 20 to 80 yards.

All three Quad-Cityans shoot regularly at Lane's Archery at 1834 State St. in Granite City.

At Tri-City Speedway

Corbin wins with McMillan sprinter

The car was the same, but the driver was different for the feature sprint race Friday night at Tri-City Speedway. Tom Corbin made winning look easy in the John McMillan '83 Sprinter which Kenny Schrader drove to victory last week.

Corbin started in the fifth spot to overtake the pole sitters for the win. Jack Zeigler was second with Manny Rockhold third. Scott Hempel of Florissant drove his newly purchased sprint car for the first time ever. He made a real decent showing while tackling the fast half-mile.

Jim "Beetle" Bailey of Ellisville, Mo., made it three in a row in the street stock feature. Mel Perkins of Granite City was pushing Bailey hard to try for the lead, but got too high in the loose dirt. Instead of taking the lead Perkins ended up losing a position to Ed Kunz of Alton.

In the sportsman class Tom Seets of Brighton couldn't be stopped. He won last week but was disqualified because of an illegal tie. Second was Steve Quertemouse of Cottage Hills. Mark Kruse was involved in a spin which caused him to have a flat tire. He got the tire changed and started on the tail before losing any laps. Kruse still managed to come from last to finish third.

A new mini-sprint came all the way from Sedalia to try and take the show from the local drivers, but was unable to steal it from the regular drivers. Randy Blackwell of Columbia, Mo., won the race with Carl Ferguson of Fredricktown, Mo., as second and Skip Miller of Fenton, Mo., was third.

Wednesday, July 20, the winged sprints and Highland modifieds run on the half-mile. Gates open at 6 p.m. with racing at 8 p.m. For further information, persons should call 797-6979.

Sports of all Sorts

An alternative basketball schedule

By AL BARNES

In my most recent column,

I itemized a list of problems bugging the top leadership at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. And, man, do they have some problems, but most of their own making.

To tell you the truth, I'm just now recovering from my shock, nay, trauma, with the announcement of Earl Lazerson, the school's prez, that he had unilaterally decided to give up basketball for an entire season.

Just morbid curiosity, of course, wasn't that a decision which should have been made by the "OK" of the school's Board of Trustees?

All I know is that the decision has caused embarrassment and shame not only to graduates, but natives of the state.

But, that's all past.

However, I would like to suggest that it isn't too late to take positive action to play basketball, NCAA Division II, at that, in the upcoming 1983-84 campaign.

The school still has on campus, and a member of the Cougar sports coaching staff, a guy highly qualified to coach the team in one Harry (the Horse) Gallatin. And, another highly qualified young coach, Larry Graham, who could be hired to serve as an assistant to Gallatin for a one-year interim period (the '83-'84 campaign).

I believe I'm correct in this, both men were in the final five or six candidates for the job when Jim Dudley was replaced.

Gallatin, after one of the most illustrious pro careers, coached highly successfully at the college level (four winning seasons at SIU-Carbondale) and was a pro coaching success too (with the Hawks and Knicks) before coming to SIUE in 1968.

Old Harry's only fault, I believe, was that he didn't relish the job of recruiting. And, can you blame him. It's a tough life.

Graham, one of the most successful of high school coaches in Illinois, should be hired to work over as head coach, after one year. And, instructed to build SIUE's program with local southern and southwestern Illinois prep coaches.

I don't believe that it would be impossible to put together a 27-game schedule even this late in the game.

Harry has a lot of friends in the coaching profession who still "owe" him. In less than five minutes, I came up with the following possible schedule:

Washington U., St. Louis, 2 games; University of Missouri, St. Louis, 2 games; McKendree College, 2 games; Quincy College, 2 games; Western Illinois U., 1 game; Eastern Illinois U., 1 game; Greenville College, 2 games.

Blackburn College, 2 games; St. Louis University, 1 game; Lewis U., 2 games; Sangamon State U., 2 games; McMurtry College, 2 games; Illinois College, 2 games.

The last two, since they both are located in Jacksonville, Ill., would be a bargain.

What do you think?

GCC sponsors summer wrestling camp Monday

Granite City Center will sponsor a wrestling camp July 25-29 at the center, formerly Granite City High School North. The camp will be held in the air-conditioned cafeteria.

GCC wrestling coach Jim O'Dell, GCC assistant coach Walt Whitaker and Chris Whelan, an All-American wrestler at the University at Missouri and a Granite City native, will be the instructors at the camp.

Counselors for the camp include Steve Smith, Scott Corey, Colin Davis, Doug Graham, Jim Frangoulis and Orlando Hobson.

The cost of the camp is $35 and covers insurance and a T-shirt. Camp sessions run from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. each evening of the camp. The camp is open to boys 10 years old or older.

Applications for the camp can be picked up at the GCC office or by calling GCC at 931-0600.

Spanniger, Gehinger win QCACS golf scramble

Frank Spanniger and Master Sergeant Pat Gehinger, who are both working at the Army Depot, birdied the 17th and eagled (only been done twice) the 18th holes to run off for the competition for 1st place of the Championship Flight in the American Cancer Society's golf tournament Sunday, July 10, at Arlington Golf Course in Granite City.

The Gene and Marvin Brady team from Edwardsville had just eagled the 16th hole to go into a first place tie with the Army team at five under par but the birdie and eagle on the last two holes proved to be too tough to match in the fight for the championship.

The two-man scramble format of Spanniger and Gehinger earned an eight under part 64 to claim first place and the teams of Brady and Brady; Tupper and Chapman; Wangelin and Cooper; and Rankin and Hayes had to settle for a second place tie with a score of 68. A score card play-off awarded 2nd place to Rankin and Hayes and 3rd place to Wangelin and Cooper.

The team of Arnold and Hughes claimed first place in the "A" flight and the teams of O'Brien and Clark and Otten and Simpson took second and third place respectively.

Secresse and Krueger won first place in the "B" flight while the teams of Maher and Maher and Carson and McFall claimed second and third place.

The father and son combination of Joe and Larry Thompson took first place in the "C" flight. The team of Marty and Marty and Sleigh and Pohlman came in second and third.

The organizers of the scramble and the American Cancer Society and all those persons and businesses which helped with the fund raiser were pleased with the results.

Survey shows positive attitude about SIUC

What do Southern Illinoisans think of Southern Illinois University—Carbondale?

They like it, they believe it helps local communities in many ways and they see it as especially beneficial to the region as a whole. SIUC is concerned about Southern Illinois, they believe, but it should do more for areawide economic development.

These are main findings of a survey of deep-dwelling educators, government and political leaders conducted late last year by SIUC's Graduate School. An objective was to analyze attitudes and opinions of area leaders toward SIUC and the region.

The survey drew 420 responses from its 22-county target area. Eighty-eight percent of those said they "strongly agreed" with the statement, "my overall image of SIUC is favorable." Four percent disagreed and the rest were undecided. Researchers termed the response "remarkably favorable."

Graduate School Associate Dean John Jackson III, who wrote the report, says the survey results are "a surprisingly good outcome for the image of the institution. It backs up the concept of service to the region and shows we are doing reasonably well, but perhaps we need to raise the level of service," he said.

"Communities in the area need all the help they can get. They look to us as a reservoir of experts. Most can't afford to hire a private consultant."

Nearly 95 percent of the respondents agreed strongly that "SIUC is a major asset to Southern Illinois" and almost three-fourths of the respondents said they believed SIUC should do more to strengthen economic development in the region.

However, 72 percent disagreed with a statement that SIUC is not much concerned about the economic development of Southern Illinois. To the statement, "SIUC is not much concerned about my community," 23 percent strongly agreed, but 44 percent strongly disagreed.

More than half the respondents indicated they believed SIUC should do more to assist area governments and two-thirds said they believed the university should do more to help school districts.

More than three-fourths of those answering the questions felt strongly that SIUC helps make Southern Illinois a better place to live, while more than half felt the same way about SIUC's effect on their own communities.

When asked to indicate what help SIUC could give to them, 113 respondents listed some specific item, such as legal research, computer services and design assistance, while 83 suggested workshops or training programs.

More than half of the respondents said they'd received help from the university, mostly in the form of consulting help on specific problems. A large majority of those—82 percent—termed the services satisfactory.

Among conclusions of the survey are that SIUC enjoys "a very positive image" in the Southern Illinois region, that local officials endorse an additional service role for the university and that, while SIUC is seen as an asset to some local communities, its regional importance is even greater.

Researchers also conclude that SIUC has attained "some degree of success" in building its image after the "low ebb" in town-gown relations that resulted from campus anti-war protests during the spring of 1970.

Faculty and students have "contributed immeasurably to this effort" to restore close ties between the region and the university, the report states.

Helping Jackson on the analysis were Daniel Riffe, journalism; Jack McKillip, psychology; Sharon Shrock, Learning Resources Services; David Pauli, Social and Community Services; and Robert Roper, political science.

ATTACK MAN IN HOUSING COMPLEX

Robert Householder, 403 Kirkpatrick Homes, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and released following an incident in the housing complex's 1400 block, where he reported being knocked to the ground and kicked by two men. One of the men tried to start a fight with him as he walked through the complex a few minutes earlier, Householder said.

One assailant was about 20 years old, 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighed 150 pounds. He had blond hair, a mustache, Householder said.

The second man was 6 feet tall with dark hair and a mustache, Householder said.

A four-band equalizer worth $139 was stolen from the parked auto of William Bohn, 2008 Dewey Ave., he reported at 5:05 p.m. Friday.

Library offers stock survey

A weekly publication on stock rankings, "Value Line Investment Survey," now is available at the Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave.

"Value Line" contains reports on 1,700 stocks classified into 92 industrial groups. Special rankings for each stock guide the investor in selecting stocks for purchase, for sale or for retention.

The service is the largest of its kind in both number of subscribers and annual revenues.

The "Selection and Opinion" section offers opinions on the business climate in this country, gives an overview of the total stock market and suggests investment strategy.

It also carries an analysis of industries and more in-depth reports on one or two stocks in each edition.

Other publications in the business and investment section of the downtown public library are the "Wall Street Journal," "St. Louis Business Journal" and "Barron's." Various publications by Standard and Poor's Corp. also are available, including "The Outlook," "Dun and Bradstreet's," "Million Dollar Directory," "Billion Dollar Directory" and the "Thomas Register of American Manufacturers."

ARREST ON WARRANT

Daniel J. McCullough, 19, of 2007 Sixth St., Madison, was transferred from the Madison Police Department to Granite City last week on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a criminal damage to property charge.

DUI charge filed; crash hurts woman

Cheryl L. Fanning, 24, of 3008 Kirkpatrick Homes was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol Thursday after her eastbound auto allegedly sideswiped an Illinois Power Co. post and then hit the rear of the parked car of John Crow, 2025 W. 20th St.

The collision was on W. 20th west of Illinois Avenue, and the impact knocked the parked auto over curbing at the intersection.

After being treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for a right knee injury, she was freed by police on $102 bail.

GC man chosen to work with Pershing II missiles

Local residents might think the face on page 55 of the July issue of Life Magazine looks familiar, and for some, it probably is.

Staff Sgt. Dennis Boyce, 24, a Granite City resident stationed with the U.S. Army at Fort Sill in Laughton, Okla., was one of nine chosen from 300 applications to learn to operate the Pershing II nuclear missiles, set for deployment in Europe by the end of the year.

Boyce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Betty) Boyce of Granite City. He is married to Jerry Baugus Boyce, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Virgie) Baugus operate the Midwest Motel in Mitchell.

Boyce attended Granite City High School South prior to his enlistment and completed work for his high school diploma after he entered the Army.

The nine chosen to learn how the missiles operate have been commuting from Cape Canaveral to the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico for the last 16 months.

Crews also will be trained in West Germany, where the missiles will be stationed.

The controversial Pershing II, which so far have cost $576.7 million, have a 1,000-mile range and can penetrate 300 miles into the Soviet Union.

The Army says the missiles are capable of reaching their targets within yards. Deployment will include 108 Pershing IIs and 472 cruise missiles to NATO sites in West Germany, Italy, Belgium, England and the Netherlands.

The Pershing IIs, which have a computer memory of target areas, can be launched until its crew receives a coded command from both Army and NATO headquarters.

ISP WARRANT

Following his arrest on charges of reckless driving and driving while his license was expired last week, Larry D. Schroeder, 38, of 3011 Myrtle Ave., also was booked on an active warrant issued by the Illinois State Police for allegedly failing to appear in court on a driving under the influence of alcohol charge. He was released after posting a $504 cash bond.

EIU restricting admissions

Eastern Illinois University at Charleston will no longer accept fall semester 1983 applications from first-time freshmen and community college transfer students with less than 55 semester hours of credit. It was announced by John Beacon, director of admissions.

The cutoff will not affect graduate students, regular returning students and recipients of designated institutional awards and scholarships. Admission for applicants transferring from four-year senior institutions was closed earlier.

Beacon said that the university, by imposing a cutoff for the fall semester, expects to maintain its enrollment at approximately the same level as last year, 9,926 students. "That figure represents the point at which Eastern can maximize its available resources and maintain the quality of its academic programs," he said.

Beacon said the decision should not come as a surprise to most students. "The Office of Admissions mailed letters in March to guidance counselors throughout the state warning of a possible closing, and a similar letter was sent to community college personnel in April," he said.

Today's action marks the third year in a row that Eastern has imposed a similar cutoff of applications, with the 1981 and 1982 actions coming in the month of February.

Beacon said this year's decision to apply a cutoff date later than in previous years is the result of more room in the total university population, a situation brought about by the departure this spring of the largest graduating class in the school's history.

The announcement said also that re-admission of former under-graduates who wish to return to Eastern for fall semester 1983 will be open only to those students who are in good standing academically.

Students on academic probation may apply for spring semester 1984. Reinstatement of those who have been academically dismissed was cut off on May 6. Students in good standing seeking re-admission must apply no later than Friday, Aug. 12, to be considered for fall.

E. A. KARAND JEFF
Chairman
GRANITE CITY TRUST

Q: I'm interested in investing in U.S. Treasury bills. Can you give me some information concerning tax status, where they are available, etc.?

A: Treasury, or "T-bills," are exempt from state and local taxes, however, not from federal taxes. A minimum treasury bill purchase is $10,000, with additional purchases in multiples of $5,000. Rates on treasury bills are set by the Federal Reserve Board each Monday, with an immediate discount. When you purchase a T-bill, your purchase is for less than the face value. At maturity — which is three, six, twelve months, or longer — the federal government will send you a check for the face value of the T-bill. As an option, you can elect to "roll over" your money into a new bill automatically. T-bills are available through the Federal Reserve Board and through your bank. Your banker will be glad to discuss the advantages of treasury bills with you, as well as all other investment available through your bank.

Bob Tyler captivates organ pedalers

The AOA Organ Pedalers Organ Club, June meeting was at the National School of Music, 2109 Cleveland Boulevard. Tyler took requests from the crowd and played everything from waltzes to jazz. The hour and a half was filled with vocal selections and Tyler accompanied himself on the organ and piano. The store was set up with an area for dancing, which several of the crowd did, including line dancing and "The Little Chicken Dance."

New vote counting machines studied

By JIM SCHLUTTER

The machines may be complex and the terminology may be complicated, but Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles thinks she can save money with a new method of counting voter ballots.

Miss Bowles told the county's 230 computerized precinct ballot counters (PBCs) has led her to seeking other methods of compiling election returns. During an election, each of the county's 221 precincts has a PBC.

The problem with the PBCs occurs when their central processing unit (CPU) boards — the "brain" of the PBCs — break down. According to Miss Bowles, that has been happening quite a bit.

Her other alternative is to buy four ELPAAC (which stands for election package) systems. According to Bowles, ELPAAC systems are portable mini-computers. She said four units would do the job for only $100,000.

During an election, the four ELPAACs would be located at "satellite" offices

"The cost of replacing those CPU boards is at least $1,200 apiece," Miss Bowles said. "We have to do something. The repair bills when these things go down will eat us alive."

She currently has one ELPAAC which she uses for ballot counting for parts of the county and other purposes. She said the ELPAACs can perform other functions, such as word processing, and would be available for use by other county offices when not needed for elections.

Bowles would like to have the ELPAAC systems for the November, 1983, elections and said she would pay the initial payment of $21,500 from her budget. She hoped federal revenue sharing money would pay for the other three installments of the four-year payment plan. She also would sell the existing precinct ballot counters.

"It (November) would be an excellent chance to have a real trial run because not a lot of ballots will be cast, but every precinct will be open," she said. "We would get a good handle on how long it would take to process all of the precincts."

If the change was made, Miss Bowles said voters "would never know the difference," because they would vote in the same manner as before.

The finance committee suggested Miss Bowles discuss the purchase of the ELPAAC system with Director of Administration Mary Kane and report back to the committee.

"It (November) would be an excellent chance to have a real trial run because not a lot of ballots will be cast, but every precinct will be open," she said. "We would get a good handle on how long it would take to process all of the precincts."

If the change was made, Miss Bowles said voters "would never know the difference," because they would vote in the same manner as before.

High-risk pregnancy seminars available to area residents

In an attempt to reduce child abuse, pre-natal maternal illness and post-natal infant death, the Family Service and Visiting Nurse Association (FSVNA) of Alton, in conjunction with the Home Health Department of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, is offering educational seminars every Wednesday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the FSVNA at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

"This program is geared toward problem pregnancies," said Mary Heilige, SEMC director of Home Health, "whether it be emotional problems or high-risk pregnancy involving physical difficulty of some kind."

Initiated through a grant from the Illinois Department of Public Health to aid low-income families or those families experiencing financial difficulty, the seminars are taught by registered nurses, nutritionists, certified nurse midwives, pediatric practitioners and psychologists, and deal with resources for the mother, physical changes, nutritional development, labor and delivery, and post-partum care.

"Although our funds are limited," said Carol Corgiat, health education coordinator, "we try to assist these mothers all we can, such as paying for vitamins, some of the necessary lab work or for the initial visit to the doctor.

Mary and I also are available to work with these expectant mothers on an individual basis and to provide family counseling," she noted.

The classes are not mandatory to receive assistance through this grant, "but," said Mrs. Corgiat, "attendance is preferred." Individuals may join the seminar anytime during their pregnancies.

According to Mrs. Heilige, these classes will provide mothers with the information which will prepare them for childbirth. "As the pregnancy progresses," said Mrs. Heilige, "we will concentrate more on the care of a newborn infant and how to prepare the home environment for bringing a newborn home."

Should problems arise or if the mother is extremely high risk, a nurse midwife will visit the home once a month to monitor the prospective mother.

In the last trimester of the pregnancy, the Home Health Department will visit each residence to assist the mother in preparing for the baby's homecoming.

"After the baby is born," said Mrs. Heilige, "another home visit will be made to answer any questions the mother may have concerning the care of the infant. We will make one more visit to the home to monitor the child, to see that the baby is gaining weight and that the mother has followed up with taking the baby back to the pediatrician. If she hasn't, we will try to assist her in getting the baby back to the pediatrician."

Residents who consider themselves as a high-risk pregnancy, or those who know someone who is, may receive these services by contacting the Home Health Department at 798-3200 or the FSVNA at 1-463-5097. Classes will be limited to 12 participants.

10 aircraft classes here

What will the Granite City Center offer the Quad-Cities? Aviation mechanic training, and a lot more.

The two-year college opening Aug. 22 at 4950 Maryville Road is planning a variety of business, health, and science classes. An updated list of courses is about to be issued.

Altogether, about 200 courses will be taught at GCC in the fall semester. One of the local training programs drawing wide attention is aviation maintenance technology, for which the Air National Guard is preparing to airlift a C-17B cargo plane and an F-4 jet aircraft from California to GCC.

Four such courses will be taught here every weekday, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. They are aircraft structures and repairs, aircraft systems, powerplant theory and maintenance, and powerplant systems.

Special problems in aircraft hydraulic and in aircraft structures will be taught at GCC on days yet to be announced. These two courses offer three credits each, compared to 10 credits for the five-day-a-week courses.

Other aviation maintenance technology classes will be evening aircraft and powerplant I, 6 to 9:45 Mondays and Wednesdays, and evening aircraft and powerplant II, 6 to 9:45 Tuesdays and Thursdays. Each is an 18-week, nine-credit course, I being taught at GCC and II at Scott Air Force Base.

Aircraft preventive maintenance instruction for those with a GOC from 7 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. Wednesdays, offering three credits.

Two aviation electronics, six-credit daytime classes are scheduled at GCC from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. They are aviation electricity and avionics I.

Classes to learn to pilot aircraft will be available at BI-State Parks Airport, Cahokia.

In addition to courses conducted in college buildings and at extension centers, eight District 522 television courses are slated for fall. Cable TV presentations are planned by the South-Western and Continental cable companies so that the courses can be taken at home, and videotapes will be available at the Granite City Center, at the Belleville Area College campus on Carlyle Road in Belleville, and at the Granite City Public Library.

Earth-sea-sky, private pilot, U.S. history to 1877, and American playhouse are new to the telecourse list.

Repeated will be the growing years, an introduction to data processing, the home gardener, and understanding human behavior.

Merit teacher pay easily wins in poll

Three-fourths of this metropolitan area's residents agree with the concept of merit raises for teachers, and half believe public school teachers' salaries are too low.

A poll conducted by the Opinion Research Division of Fleishman-Hillard showed residents are equally divided on the overall quality of local school education. Two out of five say public schools have gotten worse in the last few years.

There is no consensus as to which level of government should provide any additional funds which may be needed to upgrade the quality of education.

The poll is based on interviews with 518 residents of the area, including St. Louis City and County, Franklin, Jefferson and St. Charles counties in Missouri, and the Illinois counties of St. Clair and Madison. Interviewing was conducted by telephone June 20-27.

When residents were asked, "Do you believe that teachers should be given raises according to seniority, or do you think teachers should be given merit raises depending upon their job performance?" 75 percent supported the idea of merit raises for teachers and 11 percent favored seniority pay increases. Nine percent think both types of raises should be given.

In response to a question concerning public school teachers' salaries, about half responded that pay is too low.

One-fourth feel that the salaries are just about right, while the rest feel that teachers' salaries are too high. Almost one in five said they did not know.

Missouri residents are more likely than those in Illinois to feel that public school teachers' salaries are too low. Only 38 percent of the Illinois residents say salaries are too low, as opposed to 56 percent of the Missouri residents.

Residents are equally divided on the quality of education provided in their schools. About half say the quality is excellent or good, and almost the same percentage rate the quality as fair or poor.

St. Louis city residents are more inclined than other area residents to rate their public schools fair or poor, with almost three-fourths responding fair or poor and only one-fifth answering excellent or good.

St. Louis County residents are more evenly divided, half having a positive view and half giving a negative response.

Illinoisans are more likely to have a more positive view of their schools than residents of other areas; almost two-thirds say their schools are excellent or good.

When asked, "Do you think the quality of education at local public schools has improved, stayed about the same, or gotten worse in the last few years?" two in five area residents say the quality of education has gotten worse in the past few years, while about one in five say the quality has improved. Three in ten say there has been no change.

Most St. Louis city residents say the quality of public education has gotten worse, with 59 percent holding this view. Residents of Franklin, Jefferson and St. Charles counties are more inclined to feel the quality has improved; 34 percent gave this response.
